

Spelling w/c 27/4/20

Task 1

Make sure you know how to spell these common exception words:

| | | | | | |
|---|-----------|-------|-------|-------|--------|
| 1 | you | your | they | by | my |
| 2 | every | break | steak | great | pretty |
| 3 | beautiful | after | fast | last | past |

Practice them first by: looking at the word, saying the word, cover the word, write the word and then check it. You can do this on paper/ in sand/ with chalk in the garden or any other way you like. You could get someone else in your house to read off the words to see if you can spell them.

Task 2

Read the story on the next page and highlight all of the words with the r phoneme. This could be spelt r or wr. Then write them in the table below:

| r | wr |
|---|----|

Challenges

- Write your own pirate story containing the words from this week. Make sure every sentence has a capital letter, full stop and is written neatly.
- Find some other words with the r phoneme wr. Add these words to the table above. You could try using a dictionary for this if you have one at home.

wr

The pirates quickly sailed through the waves, wrestling with the wheel of the ship, trying not to take the wrong turn. Captain Wretch's orders were written in large writing and hung like a wreath on his door. The crew were to anchor at the Jolly Roger shipwreck, dive into the water and steal the treasure chest.

It took no time at all, and soon the pirates were back on board wringing out their wet clothes, eager to get the chest wrenched open. Jangles had a go first but the arm wrestle he had last night with Crutchy had left his wrist feeling sore and weak so he had no success. Next up to try was Rusty, and she wrapped her hands around the treasure chest, trying to prize it open. The pirates were convinced that Rusty would manage because she was the strongest in their crew, but they were wrong. She turned around and walked back to the group feeling defeated with a wrinkled forehead. Every pirate took their turn to try and open the chest with no success.

It was not until Wren, the youngest member of the crew, appeared from the shipwreck with a key hanging from her wrist that they realised it had been locked all along. The pirates pounced on Wren, and they began wrestling her for the key. Wren promised she would give everyone their fair share of the treasure, wriggling out of the human pyramid.

When she turned the key, the pirates couldn't believe their eyes. Hundreds of gold coins, each with the letter C written on it. However the smiles soon dropped from their faces as they discovered that the treasure was not real gold, but in fact chocolate coins! They had gone to the wrong shipwreck. Captain Wretch was NOT going to be happy!
