Introduction and emersion of the story:

Please start by reading the attached ebook of the story.
It may be useful to complete the reading activities along the way.

Design your own front cover for The Enormous Turnip.
It must have the title of the book and a picture!

Have a look at the front cover of books you have at home.

Do they use different styles of writing (different fonts) for the title to what they use for the author's name?
Do the pictures on the front show all of the characters, or just a setting?

Decide how little/how much you want to give away to the reader from your front cover!

Design your own blurb for The Enormous Turnip.

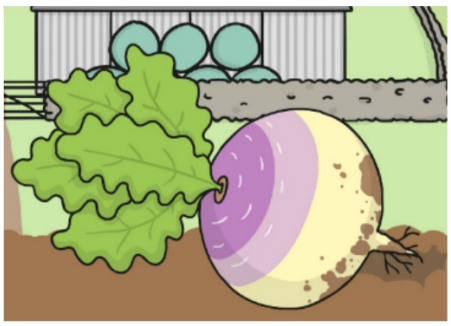
Reminder: a blurb goes on the back cover of a book. It gives us a few clues about the story so that we can decide if we want to read the book.

You might want to give a few details about the setting or characters. Here are a few useful sentence starters:

If you enjoy stories about...then this may be the book for you!

Take a look inside to find out...



Take a look inside to find out...

Complete the book review for The Enormous Turnip.

Reminder: adjectives describe nouns (people, places or things). Adjectives can give us more detail about the colour, shape or size to help the reader make a picture in their own imagination.

Use the pictures in the story to help you!

kind, cheerful, old = adjectives
man, woman= nouns

A book review by _____

Who were the characters? Draw a picture and write an adjective to go with each character name.

kind old woman
and a cheerful old man

Complete the book review for The Enormous Turnip.

Reminder: a moral is something that we can learn from the story. It might be about kindness, sharing, bravery.

Try to use the conjunctions and/ because in your answers to these questions.

There are some sentence openers to help you but you don't have to use them!

What was the story about? Was there a moral?

The Enormous Turnip is about … and …

It teaches us …

What did you like about the story?

I liked … because …

Does this story remind you of any others that you have read?

It reminds me of … because…

Your star rating for the book

CHALLENGES

Adjective Challenge!

The adjective little is used a lot in the story.
Can you write down as many words that you can think of that mean the same as little?

Verb Challenge!

Can you find the verbs in the story?
Reminder- verbs are action words.
Can you replace any with different verbs?
eg. shouted could become bellowed