

Do you want to play a brass instrument?

My name is Chris Barron and I am the brass teacher at Ecclesall Primary School.

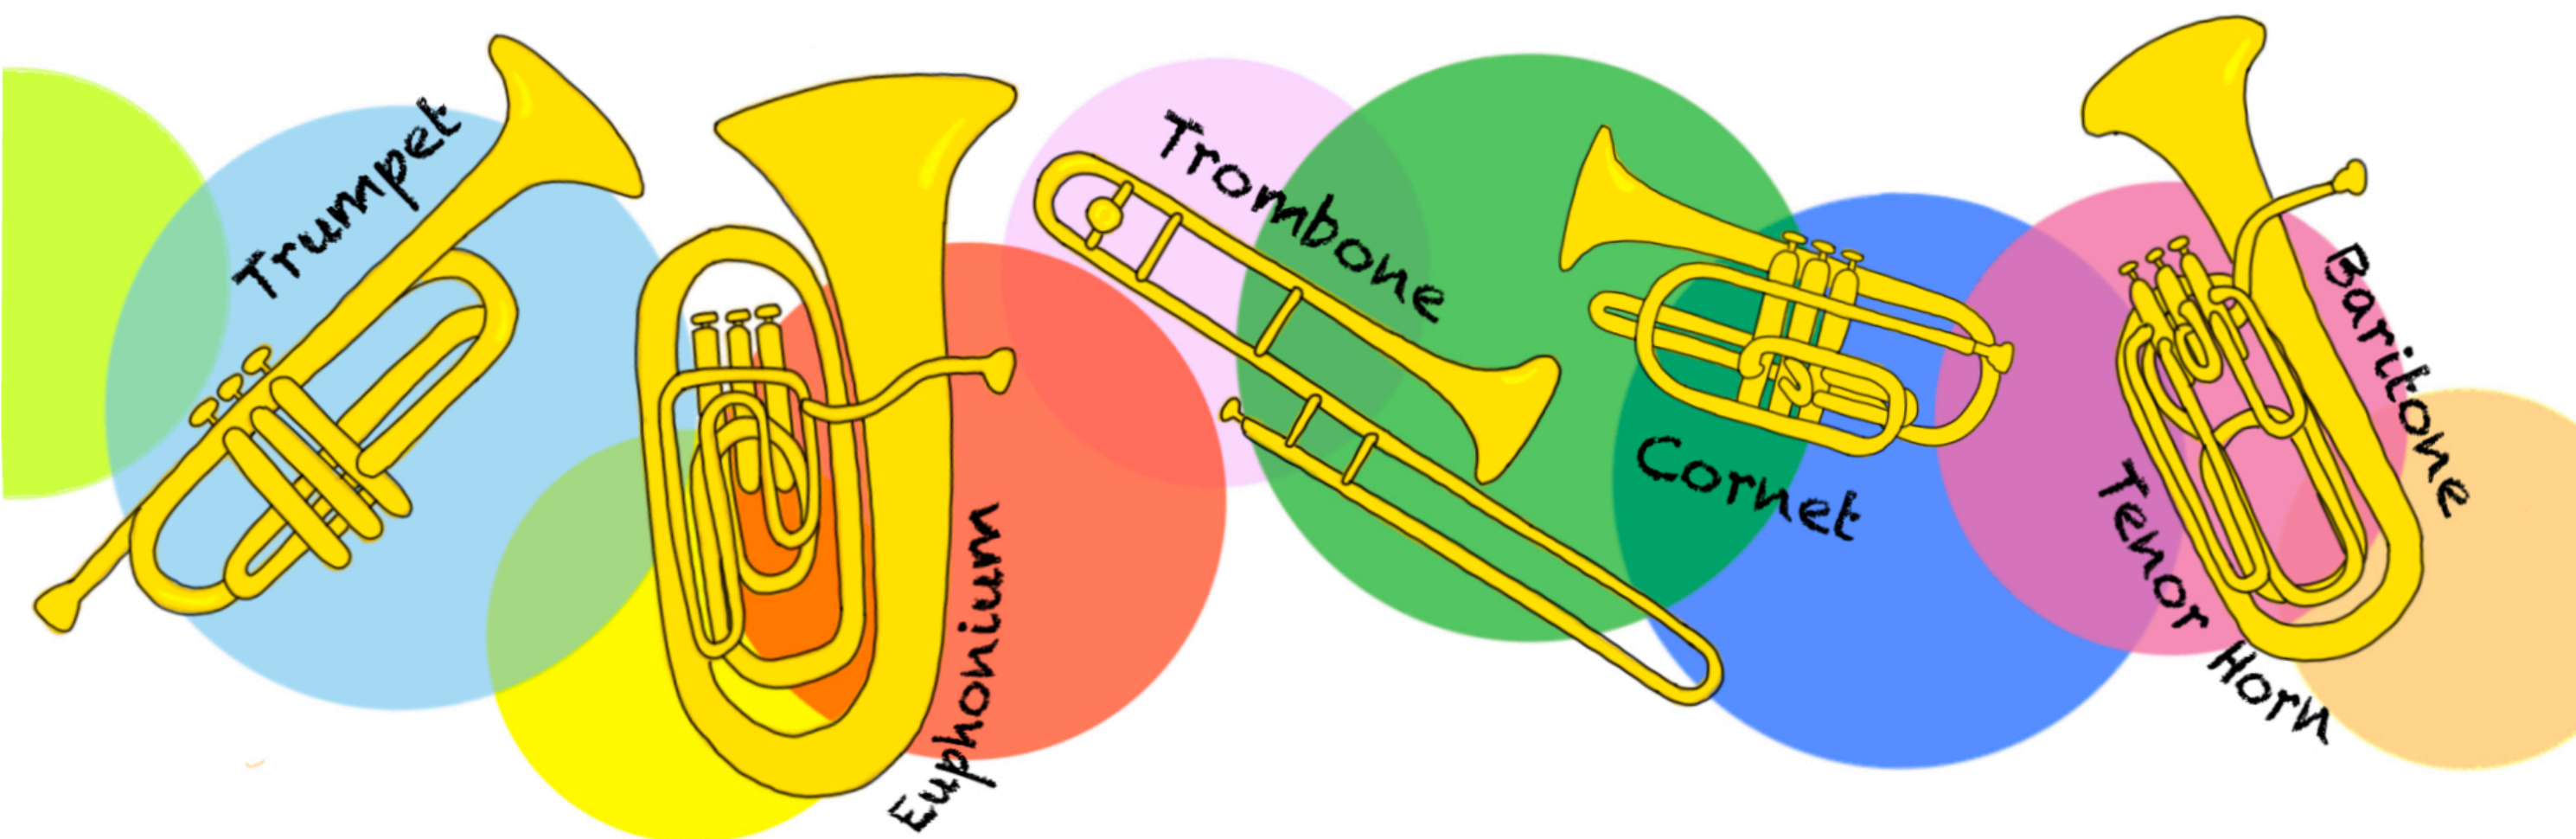

This week my ten brass students performed a concert for the whole school, and we are looking for even more pupils to join us next year!

Why learn to play an instrument?

Learning a musical instrument is one of the most fun things you can do at school! It lets you make lots of new friends by playing music together, it trains many different parts of your brain, and is an activity you can enjoy taking part in your whole life!

What instrument can I learn?

I can offer lessons on the following instruments:

What opportunities are there if I learn?

From next year I will be starting a Brass and Wind Band at Ecclesall for all pupils who have learned the basics in lessons, so you'll be able to play music with friends almost from the get go!
