

Royals - Year 1

Sticky Knowledge:

- A monarch is a king or queen. The United Kingdom has a monarch today called King Charles III.
- Queen Elizabeth was our last reigning monarch. Prince William will be our monarch in the future.
- The lives of our parents and grandparents happened before our lives. They were children once. Our grandparents had very different childhoods to our own.
- We still have castles today.

How you can help at home:

Look at the King and the members of the royal family.

Have a look at some castles and royal homes around the UK.

Prior Learning

The children know there was a time before they were born. They began to look at how change is where something was different in the past. They have looked at kings and queens in traditional stories and know that our King is an important person.

Future Learning

Year 2 Victorians- in the past Kings and Queens had the power to make laws.

They will learn about childhoods further in the past beyond living memory.

The Great Fire of London and Victorians - develop their understanding of power and monarchy.

Compare Queen Victoria and Charles II to our Monarch today
